

The Man

Who is the man? In the world of dating and seduction, the guy loaded with confidence, who understands women and knows how to control the interactions with them using his skills and emotions is the man. It doesn't take long for a woman to look at a man and size him up. This is because most of the communication happens through our body language and tonality. In fact, remember: ALL THE VERBAL COMMUNICATION THAT YOU HAVE WITH WOMEN IS SIMPLY GIVING EACH OTHER THE TIME AND OPPORTUNITY TO READ NON VERBAL SIGNALS USING BODY LANGUAGE AND TONALITY! This is how the dating game is played and this is how seduction takes place.

Let me give you an example. I love to tease and get into small playful teasing bouts. At times, when the girl I'm with teases me with something, I smile and give her a glance at her from the side letting her know that she is in trouble. Sometimes I even vocalize this, saying, "You have no idea how much trouble you are in." On the surface it will sound to the casual observer that we are still teasing each other. But with my looks and tonality what I have conveyed to her is that I am dominant, I control her and as a consequence of what she just did I will have my way with her. Not once has it happened that a woman did not perceive my nonverbal message. In fact, at times they remind me in the bedroom about what they did to me.

Remember, a woman will look at you and within seconds know almost everything about you that they need to know in order to decide if they are attracted to you or not. This doesn't happen because of some super power that they possess. Women are able to do this because they are very good at decoding nonverbal messages. Very often you will notice that a guy has been talking to a woman for 15-20 minutes when another guy enters the set and within seconds he steals the woman from the guy who has been building rapport for last 15-20 minutes.

The reason this happens is because this second guy, in the example, has stronger body language that conveys to woman that he is the man. And he successfully does this without even speaking a word. Remember the dialog from Jerry Maguire: “You had me at hello”.

Let's take a look at the list of things that makes a man sexy and desirable in the eyes of a woman. I already gave the list in the previous chapter. Now I will take a quick look into the list and I will add few more things to the list that you must internalize to become sexy and desirable or in other words to be THE MAN! Remember, women will constantly test you on these, so be prepared.

Every item here is vast and extensive to have an E-book of their own so I would recommend to do some research on your own if you are unsure of any topic. Also remember, you get a fifteen minute phone call with me on
